

Success Story

My name is Tyler Stout, I'm 22 years old; and was not living a very healthy lifestyle. This was stopping me from ~~achieving~~ ^{achieving} my goal in becoming a Police Officer. In order for me to even be considered to be a Police Officer, I needed to pass a physical agility test. I tried taking this test once before and could not complete the test. This was due to being out of shape. So I got serious about this. I started personal training at the Cantrell Center with Ryan Campbell and Jon Gross. For over a month they ~~pushed~~ pushed me very hard and motivated me. On Friday November the 18th, 2011 I completed the test and was under the time limit for the test. Thank you Cantrell Center for helping me pursue my dream in becoming a police officer and also a healthier person.
