

Mike and James:

I just had to send an email and tell you how much I appreciate your efforts and guidance last weekend. I had some serious fog lifted!

Quick question... Any concern with older left THR patients? I have a few on my caseload, both several years old. (the patients and the hips) Not sure if there is any concern about the posterior capsule. Both are limited and I'm thinking this is an issue, but wondered what your experience was. Is it Ok to shift them back?

Also James you mentioned something about Sangini's patients in the PEC pattern. I was a bit brain dead and did not process what you said about her really being 0 degrees of IR< or you would have expected her IR to be less than it was? Do you remember this? Could you explain that again to me? Did I hear that correctly? It was late in the day and my focus was fading.

I had a great visit with my family in Atlanta and made it back to VT without event. In fact the God's must have been smiling on me as I arrived 30 mins early. I guess they figured I had my fair share!

Thanks for your time!

Back to my daughter's math homework!
